Janet Hiu Yan Chow secures the prestigious Silver A' DESIGN AWARD

「守护星」
Guardian Star

SIK KI JEWELRY MFR.
Email: info@sikkijewelrymfr.com

Guardian Star by Janet Hiu Yan Chow has been announced as a winner of the prestigious Silver A' Design Award 2017-2018 in Milan, Italy. Ranked as a top 5% percentile design by a grand expert jury panel of leading academics, influential press members and established professionals.

The inspiration of "Guardian Star" came from the legendary diamond star hairpieces of Queen Sissi of Austria. The crown-like jewelry combines traditional hairpin with ear crawler design, studded with 220 pieces of glistening diamonds weighing 5.20ct in total. The award-winning piece swings and sparks with every movement of the bride, expresses how the bride is her parents' treasure, angel and star.

Based on the story of Queen Sissi, Janet built a "Guardian Star" collection, hoping more people could associate themselves with this beautiful concept and receive the blessings. Visit the booth of SIK KI JEWELRY MANUFACTURERS in the upcoming September Hong Kong Jewellery & Gem Fair 2018 to see the award-winning piece and other collections.

JCK Las Vegas Wraps an Optimistic 2018 Show with Exhibitors Reporting Vast Improvements in ROI, Says Farewell to Mandalay Bay in Anticipation of Return to Sands Expo and The Venetian

Norwalk, CT (June 21, 2018) — JCK Las Vegas, the jewelry industry's largest North American trade event, wrapped its 2018 installation earlier this month. This year's LUXURY and JCK shows brought together over 30,000 visitors from 110 different nations of industry professionals who experienced JCK's all-encompassing collections of jewelry, timepieces, technology, services, and gemstones from over 2,300 exhibitors that occupied one million square feet of exhibit space. 2018 marked the final exhibition at the Mandalay Bay Resort & Casino before the 2019 relocation back to the renovated Sands Expo and The Venetian.

Lab-Grown Diamonds - Responding to Consumer Demand

The highly attended JCK Talks Keynote Lunch on Laboratory-Grown Diamonds presented by De Beers further identified the consumer demand for diamonds that are both accessibly priced and traceable. As the consumer, especially the millennial consumer, becomes tenaciously mindful of ethical sourcing and sustainability and, of course, price, the call for brand compliance becomes an integral portion of business success. Lightbox Jewelry, De Beers' direct-to-consumer lab-grown arm supplied with diamonds grown by Element Six, will strive to bridge the knowledge gap that lives within the lab-grown sector and will offer transparent pricing in direct ratio to cost of production.

In line with these notions, JCK expanded upon its staple neighborhood offerings to accommodate changes in consumer demand and evolving retail market. The 2018 show floor was enhanced with the co-location of JIS Exchange, as well as the new partnership with Palm Beach Show Group to include a Las Vegas Estate Jewelry & Watch Pavilion. JCK also introduced a dedicated destination for lab-grown diamonds, providing buyers with choices for all gemstones – real, rare, and grown – to ensure that the retailers meet the demand of any and all customers. JCK partnered with Jewelers Security Alliance (JSA) to launch a new neighborhood that features tailored security solution providers to keep jewelry businesses safe.

Buyers and Brands, Buyers and Buyers: Connecting People with People

JCK Las Vegas 2018 held over 70 events, from networking to education, including the JCK Talks series which offered opportunities for peer-to-peer discussions and learning opportunities. Other highlights within JCK Talks included Retailer Roundtables, Sip and Learn Social discussions, and an Afternoon with the Associations where the experts covered the industry's most requested topics. Additional notable educational events included the JCK Think Tank as well as the annual Rapaport Breakfast and GIA Sessions.

Celebratory networking events were plentiful and included the following highlights from the week:

- Diamond Empowerment Fund's "Diamonds Do Good" Gala
- Jewelers For Children's "20th Annual Facets of Hope Dinner"
- JCK Bling Happy Hours
- JCK Rocks the Bowl
- Le Vian's "Red Carpet Revue 2019 Jewelry & Fashion Trend Forecast"
- Mix & Mingle Happy Hours
- Platinum Guild International's
"Fall in Love in Platinum - The 5th C: Wedding Jewelry Trends"
- Plumb Club's "Breakfast Symposium" and "Gala Evening"
- Rapaport Breakfast—
"State of the Diamond Industry – The Buy Side"
- WJA, Gen Next and AGS Young Titleholder Mix & Mingle

Enhanced Tools and Looking Forward

2018 saw the introduction of other new tools to streamline show navigation. The "Bling Brigade" debuted this year, a re-imagining of the "Ask JCK" service that existed in prior years. Adorned in eye-catching sparkles, this squad canvassed the floor to both provide show information for visitors and to generate bursts of energy and excitement throughout the day. In the JCK Mobile app, customers were able to text their questions to Bling on demand through "Ask Bling".

In 2019, LUXURY and JCK Las Vegas will return to its origin at the newly renovated Sands Expo and The Venetian. JCK Las Vegas looks forward to unveiling their new logo to coordinate with an overall fresh and modern show look and feel at the new location. There, it will offer even more advancements, curating everything a retailer could need – all under one roof, including a Global Gemstone Pavilion, which includes 80% of the current gemstone exhibitors, plus a new International Gemstone Pavilion in partnership with the International Colored Gemstone Association (ICA) and the at-show delivery vendors from the JIS Exchange show who will have their own designated area. Other prominent JCK exhibitors have demonstrated their eagerness for things to come with long-term commitments: Forevermark, ICA, Le Vian, Plumb Club, Prestige and Stuller have all signed multi-year contracts to exhibit.

"The move to Sands Expo and The Venetian is because we continue to listen to our customers," says Bachmann. "The major decisions and future enhancements to the show in 2019 are based on customer feedback gathered from post-event digital surveys, the JCK & LUXURY Advisory Boards, retail store visits by JCK staff, and more. The exciting changes and innovations coming in 2019 are all being shaped by customer input and insights."
